It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever com-pounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Ability to Communicate Through Water One of Most Recent Important Discoveries.

Several American battleships and submarines are now equipped with R. Fessenden's submarine wireless apparatus. This sends messages more than thirty miles under water, and the inventor expects that with experience it will be possible so to improve the apparatus as to make it send and receive for several hundreds of miles. The apparatus starts a metal plate vibrating so rapidly that it sends waves of sound through the water. Sound travels through water four times as rapidly as through air. In an article in the American Magazine, Cleveland Moffett quotes Professor Fessenden as saying:

You see the importance of these oscillators in naval warfare, for a battleship equipped with such instru-ments can talk to its own submarines while they are miles away and submerged and can actually direct their movements against an enemy's vessels."

Genuine Heroism.

The characteristic of genuine hero-ism is its persistency. All men have wandering impulses, fits and starts of generosity. But when you have resolved to be great, abide by yourself, and do not weakly try to reconcile yourself with the world. The heroic cannot be the common, nor the common the heroic. If you would serve your brother, because it is fit for you to serve him, do not take back your words when you find that prudent people do not commend you. And her letters, gay and full of stories of the home life, had made him incredibly homesick-until he met Juanita.

Now, riding homeward, he knew that Mary was only the pale shadow of his love; that Juanita had his heart and always would have it. He was going home because as a man of honor there was no other course. And he was going home cured.

EXCELLENT FARMING CONDITIONS IN CANADA

Letters from Settlers Indicating Growing Prosperity.

The present year will aid another proof that farming in Western Canada when carried on with the same energy and system devoted to other lines of ousiness, will bring about results fully as satisfactory.

Mixed farming as a tocsin has been ounded for a number of years, and today it is being adopted pretty generally throughout the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. There are those who have made no greater success of it than they did when they pursued grain growing alone, but where one has failed to accomplish what he had hoped to do. dozens have scored success,

Thomas McKay, a farmer near Hardisty, Alberta, has this to say about the country:

"I came to Hardisty from Osage City, Kansas, nine years ago and took up a homestead here. This is a good district for the farmer who wishes to raise grain exclusively, and as a mixed farming country it cannot be beaten anywhere in the world to my knowledge.

"I had ten cattle, which ranged out side all last winter, and this spring they were fat enough for the market this without being fed but one night during the entire winter; they were fine fat cattle and looked beautiful. I raised some winter wheat here which weighed sixty-seven and a half pounds to the bushel, government weight, and which I shipped to Calgary. The miller who bought it said that it was the best wheat that had ever gone into Calgary. Wheat in this district yields as high as forty bushels to the acre, oats average sixty bushels. Alfalfa does well here

"All in all I think the farmers are very well satisfied with the country. and the farmer who farms his land intelligently is sure to make a success. SEDIMENT CARRIED TO SEA

Figures Show an Almost Incredible Amount Transported by China's Mighty River.

Some estimates of the discharge of the Yangtze-kiang river and of the amount of sediment it carries have recently been published by Prof. Konrad Keilhack of the Berlin School of Mines, who visited the river in September, 1913, when the stage of water was unusually high. From measurements of depth made at Wusung Nanking and Hankow, and estimates of width and velocity, this authority concludes that the discharge below Hankow (685 miles from the mouth), amounts in time of flood to 3,500,000 cubic feet per second. The annual mean is estimated at 1,750,000 cubic feet per second. Filtration measurements made at the mouth, near Wusung, taken in conjunction with the above figures for discharge, indicate an annual transport of sediment at the average rate of 37,500 pounds per second, or a total of 584,000,000 tons when it contains an excess of moisture, and when it is chemically contaminated. This is the conclusion of the New York state commission on ventilation as summarized by Prof. C. E. A. Winslow, chairman.

JUST WHAT IS BAD AIR?

MOER

The first indictment against bad gir shows that an increase in temperature beyond the normal seventy degrees produces serious derangement of the vaso-motor mechanism of the body, resulting in a rise of temperature, increased pulse, and a lowered blood pressure, with a corresponding decrease in efficiency, both physical and mental. In addition to this, overcongestion of the mucous membranes of the nose, thus possibly paying the way for colds, sore throats and attacks of various germ diseases.

The work of the commission also proves that chemical accumulations in the air as a result of air stagnation bring about a decreased appetite for food, which in turn must have an unfavorable effect on the entire body. In the commission's experiments, the people living in fresh air ate 4½ to 13 per cent more than those living in stagnant air. "These experiments," says Professor Winslow, "indicate that fresh air CARTER'S LITTLE while we have changed our ideas as to what causes bad air, ventilation is just as essential to remove heat projust as essential to remove heat prois needed at all times and in all places.
